ADMIN CORE · IN REAL LIFE

A day with the team.

You've met our AI colleagues. Here's what an ordinary day looks like while your people do the work only people can do.

Admin moves. People decide.

Correspondence 07:30

Overnight email sorted. Replies drafted and waiting for a yes.

• Waiting for a person

Policy Expert 10:15

Leave question answered from your own handbook, with the page it came from.

• Logged

Training Compliance 13:40

Two certificates run out next month. Flagged before they lapse.

• Logged

Approval gate 16:55

Daily report ready. Held until the manager signs it off.

• Held for a person

So who has the final say?

HOW IT WORKS

QuantumColleagues.

People decide. AI colleagues do the work.

01 Your people

Decide anything with consequence. Every approval carries a name.

02 The approval gate

Holds that work until a named person says yes.

03 AI colleagues

Prepare, draft and check the admin, and log every action.

Admin Core runs on your own server, with local AI. Which job would you hand over first? Tell me in the comments.
